FAMILY FUN CONCERT SERIES FOR YOUNG FAMILIES STARTS JUNE 26

Come ready to sing, clap and dance along at Eagle Creek Park

INDIANAPOLIS – (June 18, 2010) Enjoy a Saturday morning concert focused on young families at Eagle Creek Park this summer! Bring your blankets, chairs and coolers; concessions will be available. Tickets are $6 for general admission and the ticket price includes entry to the park. Two shows each concert Saturday, 10:00 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. Gates open 30 minutes before showtime.

Brady Rymer, Saturday, June 26

In an era of character-driven entertainment for children, award-winning Brady Rymer and the Little Band That Could are the real deal – soulful and spirited band bringing great musicianship, superb songwriting and pure joy to kids and all generations. Brady Rymer's rollicking roots-y tunes will have the audience up out of their seats.

Trout Fishing in America, Saturday, July 10

This four-time Grammy nominee duo has been writing, recording and performing together for three decades. Their material ranges from introspective folk and country-tinged songs, to wildly energetic rock tunes. Their willingness to be silly in one song then tender in the next is why Trout Fishing in America is so unique!

Steve Charney, Saturday, July 24

Steve Charney has been acting like a nut for a loooonnnng time. He is a magician, ventriloquist, author, musician and songwriter. Steve has written dozens of songs for "Bear in the Big Blue House," a national TV show produced by Jim Henson Production. He also produces, writes and hosts a family radio program that features original comedy sketches and songs.
